A GREAT COUNTRY.

We were informed by a friend that in the good old county of Woodford, that outside of the white men who held Federal Offices there, not more than 17 white men voted the radical ticket. Only seventeen white radicals in a county.

ADMIRAL D. G. FARRAGUT'S DEATH.

D. G. Farragut, admiral in the United States Navy, died last Sunday, at Portsmouth, New Hampshire. He was born in Knox county, Tennessee. He was noted for his gallantry during our recent "unpleasantness," and for the fact that he proved faithful to the State that gave him birth.

DEATH OF JUDGE GOODLOE.

We learn from our Lexington Exchange that Hon. W. C. Goodloe died at his home, in that city, on Sunday last, from softening of the brain. He was the son-in-law of Gov. Owsley. He served as Commonwealth's Attorney, and under the old Constitution received the appointment of Circuit Judge, and was re-elected under the new Constitution. Judge Goodloe has always been opposed to Democracy in every shape and form, as a Whig, as a Know Nothing and at the time of his death as a Republican. He was one of the best lawyers in the State, and distinguished for his learning.

MORE LAW-BREAKING AND VIOLENCE.

In another column of to-day's paper we publish an article from the "Woodford Weekly," which sets forth that "grim visaged death" has visited that county again—that men have seen fit to conceal their faces, to shield themselves from the laws, and the officers of the law, and have gone forth to commit murder. This is done in a land of law and order, and within a short distance of the capital of the State, where Mr. Stevenson, the Governor of the Commonwealth is said to live and command. No particular reason is given for committing the act, or violating the laws, but they are trampled upon, and that too at a time when good men throughout the State are taking every precaution to keep down strife and difficulties. The Democracy in this State, is held responsible for every unlawful act committed, and for every act of the radical party have already been threatening that the next Congress shall take the State in hand and reconstruct her.

We denounce this act in Woodford, as undemocratic, and will not and should not receive anything but prompt attention from the State authorities.

Let every man connected with the affair be brought to trial.

Since the above was put in type Gov. Stevenson has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to observe and assist in enforcing the laws of the Commonwealth. He offers a reward of $250 each for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of burning stacks of hay and grain in Woodford and Franklin counties, and $500 each for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who, on the night of the 10th inst., were guilty of killing Wm. Turpin and Thos. Harper, both negroes, in or near Versailles.

The Governor has done his duty in this case, and is beginning to act as if he had the care of the people in his keeping.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Republican Executive Committee for the Sixth Congressional District of Kentucky, held at the Federal Court-room in Covington, on Tuesday, August 9th, 1870, it was resolved that a Convention of the Republican party of this district be held at Warsaw, Gallatin county, on the 7th day of September, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress.

The basis of representation was fixed at two delegates for each county, and one additional one for every 100 voters or fraction of 100 voters.

cast for Grant. According to this the several counties will be entitled to the following number of delegates: Boone, 5; Bracken, 8; Carroll, 2; Campbell, 20; Gallatin, 4; Grant, 8; Harrison, 7; Kenton, 19; Pendleton, 10; Robertson, 5; and Trimble, 3. Total, 92.

The following names are mentioned in connection with the nomination: Vincent Shinkle, J. C. Sayers and W. S. Rankin, of Kenton; W. W. Trimble and N. B. Curtis, of Harrison; Colonel W. G. Terrell, Hon. Thomas Wrighton and O. W. Root, of Campbell; and E. H. Smith, of Grant.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS.

There was a battle at Metz on Sunday and the French were worsted, although Napoleon claims a victory. Napoleon, in a dispatch from Longeville, August 14, 10 P. M., says: "Our army commenced to cross to the left bank of the Moselle this morning. Our advance guard had no knowledge of the presence of any force of the enemy. When half of our army had crossed over, the Prussians suddenly attacked in great force. After a fight of four hours they were repulsed with great loss to them." The Queen of Prussia yesterday received the following dispatch, dated near Metz, Sunday evening: "A victorious combat occurred near Metz to-day, the troops of the First and Seventh corps participating. I hasten to the scene of conflict."

"William." The corps of General Ladmirault and De Caes were engaged in the fight; Marshal Bazaine was present. A London dispatch says another great battle is reported to have occurred near Metz, Monday morning, in which the Prussians were victorious. A dispatch to the New York Herald from Fortsach says the French, while retreating to the west side of the Moselle, were attacked by the Prussians under Gen. Steinmetz's command. The French were thrown into great confusion, and after a gallant stand were routed by the Prussians. The slaughter was great. A dispatch from Karlsruhe says the Prussians now occupy Mulhausen and Besancon. One hundred thousand of the Landwehr are crossing the frontier. The Paris newspapers state that Nancy was given up to the Prussians because it was an open city, and the French troops retired to Toul, which, being a fortified place, gives them a better chance to resist the Prussian advance. Metzburg still holds out. Bismarck has not yet been captured, as has been supposed but still holds out against the Prussians. The Prussians have arrived at Vigneul, a few miles from Metz, and are swarming up the Moselle. The French blew up two bridges at Vigneul, a few miles from Metz, and are swarming up the Moselle. The French blew up two bridges at Vigneul to check the rapid advance of the Germans. A Paris dispatch states that 20,000 troops of McMahon's corps, who were cut off from the French army, and believed to have fallen into the hands of the Prussians have arrived at Strasburg in safety. Le Nonde reports Marshal McMahon at Toul. The Constitutionnel, however, says he is at Nancy. Twenty French citizens of Worth were shot by the Prussians in retaliation for cruelties said to have been inflicted on wounded German prisoners. Disturbances of a serious character occurred at Marseilles and Lyons on Sunday. Crowds appeared in the streets shouting "Down with the Emperor!" Three persons were killed. There was also quite a riot in Paris. Fifty persons were arrested. A Paris paper states that Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, has been released from his promise to furnish troops to France. The mission to Denmark is also pronounced a failure.

THE COMMON SCHOOLS.

The opening of the Common Schools to the children of the county should not be deferred long after the first of September. Trustees, intrusted with the performance of this duty should seek to employ teachers as soon as possible. The success of our schools depends materially on the energy and earnestness of the trustees in securing, in time, the services of teachers. Out of a population of fourteen or fifteen thousand, we surely can find an adequate number of young men and women, of sufficient attainments, to supply a teacher for every one of the fifty-seven districts in the county, if the proper efforts be made on the part of the trustees to bring them out.

An impression appears to prevail among some of the more inexperienced of the candidates for the school-room that under the provisions of the new school law the Test Examinations are so rigid that the most thorough qualifications are demanded to obtain a certificate. While it is the aim of the law to elevate and improve the standard of our schools, and the Board of Examiners are in duty bound to carry out, so far as practicable, this view, yet many of our teachers, unaccustomed, and in many instances, unprepared to undergo the test of a severe and rigid examination, can not, under the circumstances, be expected immediately, and on their first trial, to give evidence of thorough acquirements, as teachers. Time and study are required to effect this desirable end. Their improvement must necessarily be gradual, and in the same proportion must be the rigidity of the test proposed in their examination.

Those, therefore, who have been teachers of ordinary success under the old law, though unprepared to undergo that thorough and strict examination which the present law contemplates, should not yield entirely to discouragement, and refuse to apply for certificates. We must have teachers for the fifty-seven school districts established in this county; and if trustees are unable, in all cases, to obtain the services of experienced and thoroughly qualified teachers, they ought to remember that the wages which they are prepared to offer as inducements to enter the school-room, are not exceedingly liberal; and it will be admitted that it is better to have the services of an inferior teacher than none at all.

The advancement of the general interests of our schools, and the gradual elevation of their standard of excellence and usefulness, will be accompanied by a superior and better qualified class of teachers. A liberal increase of the teachers' wages will bring into the field a more lively competition, and afford trustees a larger stock of candidates from which to make their selections. To establish and maintain throughout the county the prosperity and complete success of our schools, the first and most essential requisite is, that all the people exhibit an earnest, constant, and personal interest in the Common Schools. The great majority of the people of this county are farmers by occupation. Now suppose that they would neglect the interests of their farms, become unconcerned in regard to their stock, the raising of grain, and let briars and bushes grow up and cover the ground, and make no effort to counteract the ravages of the rains and tempests, do you think that their beautiful farms would long continue in a prosperous condition? Just as your farms, your stock, your homes require your watchful and constant labor, to render them remunerative and attractive, so the maintenance and success of your schools, in which your children are to receive that instruction which will prepare them for the duties of subsequent life, depend on your care and supervision.

The School Commissioner, however anxious he may be to create and promote a more earnest interest in the cause of education, can not succeed without the co-operation of the people. Every man should be an earnest, willing, zealous worker in the cause. Enthusiasm and life should pervade and characterize the efforts of the friends of education. Every one should feel his responsibility. Mothers, who after all should be the friends of education, the destinies of nations by the quiet influence they wield at home, will pray, above all earthly gifts, that their cherished children shall not be sent forth to do battle in a heartless world, unprotected by the shield which education throws around them. Give them the assurance that their children will be educated, and they need not the advocates of woman suffrage.

Men of Harrison! as you love your offspring, and would delight to see them advancing in all that constitutes true culture and intelligence; as you hope to see them honored and respected in life, and be your staff in declining years, I would address you in all the earnestness and solemnity the mighty interests involved, call forth. Guard and promote with energy and zeal the welfare and prosperity of your district schools!

J. F. LENTZ,
School Commissioner.

GRIM DEATH AMONG US.

We have to record the doings of the "King of Terrors" among us—king of terrors and terror of kings—the doings of death. He came ghastly, it reports he true; and the work he did appeared ghastly enough on yesterday morning. He came on horses in ghostly form, in the shape of men but with no visages of men displayed; he came with white veil over the face; with visor up. What he left for the shocked and bewildered gaze of all beholders were the stiff forms of Will. Turpin and Jim Parker, two negroes of Versailles, who must have made themselves obnoxious to his rule.

Turpin was a Methodist preacher, who caused a split in a colored congregation in this place a year or so ago, and who, with his followers, formed a new society of his own and built a house of worship a quarter of a mile from town, in a negro settlement on the Clinton road, near the cheese factory. Turpin had the reputation of being a dictator among the negroes—a leader of iron will. When a portion of his follower at one time elected a political deputation to Frankfort, which he did not like, he set about the constituting of another delegation more to his taste; and two delegations of niggers went on one and the same errand. Later, if reports be true, he has been subjecting his flock to military drill in his chapel. He appeared to be about forty five years old; an ugly, repulsive negro, of the lower stratum of the corn-field variety.

Jim Parker is represented as a man of no force of any sort hardly, but full of evil designs, and a pliant tool in the hands of the crafty. He was about forty years old.

The verdict of the jury summoned by Dr. Reid, the coroner, was to the effect that Turpin "came to his death from wounds inflicted by fire-arms in the hands of a party of unknown men, in mask, who came to his house."

The verdict in Parker's case was that he "came to his death from wounds inflicted by fire-arms in the hands of a party of unknown men in mask, who came and left on horse-back."

The most of the witnesses were negroes, and they testify that there must have been at least fifteen or twenty men among the strange visitors, all on horses.

From the New York Herald, 11th. ARCHBISHOP PURCELL.

Arrival of the Cincinnati Bishop in New York—His Views of the Infallibility Dogma.

Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, arrived yesterday by the steamer St. Laurent and put up at Sweeney's hotel. A large number of citizens called in the evening to pay their respects and to congratulate the reverend prelate on his safe return from the Holy City. He is on his way to the metropolis of the great State of Ohio, and will, no doubt, receive a warm welcome on his arrival there. A reporter of the Herald enjoyed the pleasure of an interview with the Archbishop last evening, and ascertained his views in relation to the great and momentous question concerning the infallibility of the Pope.

The Archbishop declared himself an anti-infallibilist, and spoke of Archbishop Manning as a fanatic—in fact as one whom the Anglican party were glad to get rid of on account of the disturbing influence he exercised in their councils.

Archbishop Purcell is a somewhat elderly gentleman, of quiet and courteous manners, and carrying with him much of a reputation for controversial ability. He was satisfied in the belief that the doctrine of Papal infallibility was radically of such an arbitrary character that the final promulgation of the dogma would be almost indefinitely postponed. He spoke of the Archbishop of Paris having declared his disposition to acquiesce to whatever the majority of the Ecumenical Council decided upon, but there was evident to what Archbishop Purcell gave utterance to, that the party of anti-infallibilists is not of that complexion to be easily disposed of by a vote which places them in a minority.

Archbishop Purcell expressed himself to the effect that the Roman Catholic mind of America is not prepared to accept the doctrine of infallibility as applied to the personality of the pope. That the church through the voice of its assembled representative ministers, should lay down certain laws for the government of the entire body, and promulgate final doctrines for its acceptance, receives the endorsement of all Catholics; but the question of personal infallibility is more than it is thought either reasonable or proper to receive. It will take, however, a long time before the dogma of infallibility is officially proclaimed to the world. It will have to be signed by all the bishops who participated in the Council; and that process, judging by the slow moving machinery of the Papal system, will take years to accomplish.

SINKING SLOWLY.

Diseases that progress rapidly to a crisis are not the only ones to be dreaded. Cauterous or dry rot does not blast the trees suddenly as a stroke of lightning, but unless arrested, it destroys it as certainly; and in like manner chronic debility, although it does not kill with the swiftness of yellow fever, is as sure to sap the springs of life eventually as any acute disease, if not checked by hygienic regulation. There is something impressively touching in the spectacle of premature decay, languor, pallor, emaciation, depression of spirits, and a distant foreboding, are ordinary symptoms, and they should be promptly met by tonic treatment. The best invigorant and excitant that can be administered in a case of this kind is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The stimulating principle of the preparation tones the dormant energies of the system, and the strengthening properties give a permanent and healthful impulse to the vital forces thus brought into play. The failing appetite is re-activated, the processes of digestion and assimilation are quickened, the quality of the blood is improved, the secretion become more natural, and every organ that contributes to the nourishment of the body undergoes salutary change. By these means the repair of the physical structure is effected and its health and vigor restored.

In a class of diseases has the beneficent operation of the Bitters been more marked and striking than in those characterized by general debility and nervous prostration. Ladies afflicted with these ailments find in this most wholesome of all tonics and correctives the safest and surest means of relief. It is strong to restore and powerless to injure. Such is the uniform testimony of "clouds of witnesses."

PREPARE FOR THE CHOLERA.

With the "heated term" comes the danger of that frightful pestilence—Cholera and kindred diseases. With untold and irreparable misery has been visited upon thousands annually by these awful complaints. But every one ought to be made aware that a specific for this class of diseases as well as a certain preventive, is the celebrated MESSLER'S HERB BITTERS. It will positively fortify the system against the attacks of Asiatic Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Diarrhoea, Summer Complaint, Dysentery, Colic, Painters' Colic, &c. D. H. Bissell, M. D., Physician-in-Chief of the U. S. Hospital Ship "Falcon" highly recommends it for Cholera, and has used it with marvellous success in such cases. It acts like an angel of mercy in every instance. Sold by all druggists and dealers. Price one dollar per bottle.

A black man, named Bill Vanhook, was in Cynthiana last week and intoxicated. While on his way home, he was followed by one of his color, known as little John Ayers, and drew his pistol from one of his pockets where he had it concealed, and threatened to kill little John whenever he caught him in the country. We understand that quite a number of our colored population are carrying concealed weapons. This is contrary to law, and we hope that this next Grand Jury will see to it that these Black Bucks are taught a lesson or two in law, with reference to carrying concealed weapons, and especially Bill Vanhook.

Our Fathers House, or the Unwritten Word.

This great work, by Dr. March is having an unparalleled circulation amongst all classes of readers. It has received the highest commendations at the hands of all the leading Ministers, College Professors, as well as some of the great statesmen of the country. Gen. Robt. E. Lee, President of Washington College, Va., says of it: "The design of the Author of 'Our Father's House,' seems to display the goodness and power of God in the works of his creative hands. He has set forth his views in a pleasing style and popular manner; and with so commendable an object in view, I can but hope that the book will do good. The teachings of Science rightly considered are aids to faith, and any effort to employ them in the cause of religion merits the approval and countenance of all good men."

R. E. LEE.

The book contains nearly 600

pages, printed in large clear type, and on rose tinted paper. Its illustrations are beautiful, full page steel Engravings, of fine designs of some of the great Masters of Art, Dore, Martin, John and others. Some of the most beautiful are: "The Bow in the Cloud," "The Strength of the Hills," "Let there be Light," "A Frozen World, &c." The Agent is now in our place taking orders for the book.

Humboldt and Geo. Ford.

Which is the greatest? While the one has explored the almost inaccessible mountain regions of South America, and added largely to our geographical knowledge the other has given his attention to the mitigation of human suffering, and in the invention of the famous German Bitters, known in the country as Humboldt's German Bitters, has conferred an invaluable boon upon mankind. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Nervous Debility are speedily and permanently cured by this remedy. For sale by druggists everywhere, and are not alcoholic.

BOTANIC DOCTRESS!

DO NOT AND HERB EXCLUSIVELY. Many of her different compounds are truly wonderful. INDIAN REMEDIES. They have cured many cases where all other medicines fail. Her medicines remove Fever and Acute sores, and will never return. Give no Mercury for any Disorder. Diseases may be compared to a tree, its limbs, its branches, and all but the roots will decay, and the tree will fall, yet the roots will again spring up, showing the Foundation is not destroyed. Just so with disease—some will give a medicine to destroy the disease, while the roots are left remaining in the system, and will again spring up.

The Doctress gives at first a compound of ingredients, the only one ever discovered which can break up the roots of disease, the patient gaining strength every day while taking. After having broken up the roots of disease, she next gives another kind of medicine to remove disease entirely from the system. Some of these medicines are a Wonderful Discovery, and are not found in possession of any Druggist, or in the lists of any Dispensary in the United States.

All those who are afflicted with Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Deafness, Tinnitus, Gravel, Canker, Diarrhea, Palsy, Coughs, Colds, Consumptive Complaints, Indigestion, Rush of Blood to the Head, Nervous Affections, Weakness in the Back, Pain in the side, Palpitation of the Heart, Pleurisy, Croup, Scrofula, Scalds, Leprosy, Erysipelas, all complaints, skin diseases, Catarrh of the Bladder, General Debility, Neuritis, Salt Rheum, Disease of the Eyes and Head, Catarrhs of the Uterus, Impurities of the Blood, and many diseases, and the Doctress invites to consult and be healed.

DR. SMITH'S "ELECTRIC OIL."

It cures Sick Headache in twenty minutes. Deafness, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Piles, Croup, Neuralgia, Canker, Eruptions, Burns, Cuts, &c. Twenty drops the largest dose. No alcohol, Capsicum, Camphor, or Water in it.

(From the Largest Drug House in Boston.) We have sold a large quantity of Dr. SMITH'S "Electric Oil," which is spoken of with unqualified praise. Good reports from every bottle. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, 131 Washington St., Boston.

Thousands of dollars are lost in time by family and business men, when a few drops of the "Electric Oil" is applied at the right time, would have saved all pain and trouble. Pain is hurriedly assuaged, and nature's way is left free. Some men are skeptical and selfish, others hopeful and generous, none have the right to disregard the suffering child or the poor or ignorant. The rich can travel 1,000 miles and pay $1,000 fees, cure or not cure. But what of the poor?

When on earth, Christ invariably commended every good work; the act of the Good Samaritan, and all useful and noble labor for man's amelioration, and the devoted His every waking hour to usefulness—no time for malignant fault-finding and petty jealousy.

In that spirit should every one welcome a real benefactor, like Dr. GALETTA B. SMITH'S "Electric Oil," of Philadelphia, a remedy so unlike any other known, as to attract the instant notice of medical men and all sufferers.

The great cures daily made are not mere accidents, yet seem like enchantment. Considerable sums of money are offered for the preparation—and some dealers sell as high as 100 to 200 bottles in a single day.

This "Electric Oil" is just what it purports to be. No deception—no imposture—merely a remedy of the spot. Dr. Smith frequently cures men and women. Doctors and Druggists, Ministers and Lawyers of deathly Sick Headache, within 20 minutes, in the most distressing cases, and all other ailments of the pallid cheek, the eye begins to brighten up, and certainties takes the place of abject misery.

It is true that Dr. Smith's oil is very largely yet, even that by no means accounts for such rapid and continuous demand. The oil cures, which the people had not. Sprague & Armstrong, of Cleveland, sold 100 bottles in one day. Dr. Smith's oil, the eminent Druggists of Boston, sold 134 in a day. Geo. W. Moore, of Akron, O., sold and others in proportion.

(From the Largest Drug House West of St. Louis.)

St. Joseph, March 13, 1870. Dr. SMITH—Please send us 35 dozen small and 20 dozen large size of your "Electric Oil." It has made a number of cures here and gives good satisfaction.

It cures and that is why it sells.
